fabricating a semiconductor device, and more particularly to a method of fabricating a transistor. A semiconductor device is known to include at least a field effect transistor. As a semiconductor device becomes smaller and smaller, a transistor structure thereof is also a windows 10 desktop, and explorer.exe keeps loading a kind of windows 10 cache each time I boot up. I think I have already used up all my disk space. Does anyone know how this cache is created, and how can I delete it? I tried the command line but have no idea where the cache folder is. A: The cache is stored in the %SystemDrive%\Users\[username]\AppDat a\Local\Microsoft\Windows\Explorer\Desktop\Cache directory. See here for more details on where %SystemDrive% is: Q: Could not install test extension in Android Studio I have upgraded to Android Studio 1.1.0. I am unable to install any new test extensions. I have tried to install Test Case extensions by creating a new project and configuring it as per instructions (Not created by Android Studio). However, even after installing different extensions and also updating sdk, Build tools and Android update sdk, I am unable to get the option to test the application in test mode. All other related options in this context are visible. Please suggest what should be done to test using a separate apk. A: I think I found the root of the problem.
